Job Description

All Telephone Account Managers (TAMs) will complete formal in class training followed with on-the-job development and mentoring. The primary job of the TAM is to retain or re-establish relationships with our Fortune 500 clients' business customers. TAMs will place and receive phone calls, emails, and faxes to businesses as needed to ensure their needs are met. The TAM will also be responsible for increasing revenue and strategic product sales with these businesses by up-selling and cross-selling into categories our client is not currently servicing. Inside sales experience is a plus but not required. TAMs must be willing to learn new technologies, effectively communicate with potential clients, and exhibit professional integrity at all times.

Responsibilities

- Place outbound and receive inbound phone calls to assigned leads to generate sales revenue and build customer loyalty
- Stay abreast of new products, initiatives and competitive advantage
- Reply to e-mail and handle inbound phone calls from assigned prospects
- Complete all required internal and client trainings
- Complete performance reviews, goal translations and sales reviews with managers when required

Requirements

- Fluent in Spanish and English
- Basic PC skills
- Willing to engage in direct sales and customer calling
- Ability to learn new products and systems
- Ability to work in a professional fast-paced environment
- Sales experience a plus
